THEATER CLASS DESCRIPTIONS

Audition Skills for Life Learn the many do's and don'ts that can enhance or ruin your audition before you even speak your first line. Learn how to make the best impression on your directors and teachers.

Elementary Acting Skills Students combine physical expression with emotional creativity to create characters and tell stories. Help your child plant these early skills into their memories for lasting theatrical successes.

Improv (Beg/Int) Through improv, theater games, scenes and monologues, students play their way to becoming confident speakers in front of a group. Life skills like teamwork, patience and listening are also taught while learning improv games. Beginner and intermediate students are welcome in this class. Each session ends with a showcase for family and friends on the last Thursday of the month.

Improv Performance Group Come learn games and techniques that actors use every day to save or enhance a scene. This performance group is geared toward young actors who would like to perform in front of a live audience at Improv Café. Students must receive instructor approval before enrolling in this class. Limit 10 students per session.

Monologues: Building Your Menu and Coaching You can never have too many monologues, and you never know what your director will be looking for. This class will help you hone your comedic, dramatic, classic, and serio-comic monologues for auditions and classes.

Showbiz Learn to sing, dance and act in a creative group environment. A show will be performed for family and friends on the last day of class. Teachers will emphasize team work, cooperation and fun!

The Adventures of Harry Potter and Friends Based on situations from Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire. Those pesky garden gnomes are ruining Molly's kitchen. They're out of control. Maybe Harry and his band can help bring order back to Hogwarts.

Beauty and the Beast The classic tale as old as time comes to life. Join Lumiere, Cogsworth, and all your favorite characters as they learn that it is what is on the inside that matters most.

Moaning Myrtle and the Hogwarts Loo Myrtle Sepulclaris has passed into the realm of the dead in Hogwarts. Draco Malfoy may be close to joining her. Together, they create a little mischief for the professors of your favorite Wizarding world.
