

FREE FAMILY ACTIVITY DAYS – LIGHT ART

Saturdays from 1-3pm

Light is a versatile and highly visual medium used to create abstract and figurative art. Artists use light to create a more sensory way of experiencing art. Light art can be seen in indoor galleries and at outdoor festivals around the world.

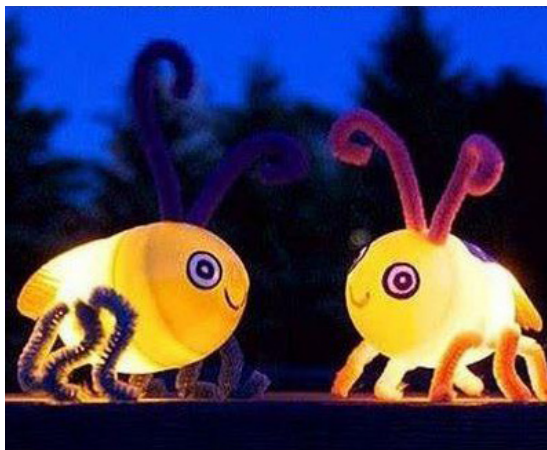

On select Saturdays in the fall, the Centers for the Arts offers free Family Activity Days for children and adults. Families will create exciting art projects to take home as well as contribute to group artworks that will be displayed later in the fall at our very own Bonita Springs Light Festival, November 9 through December 31. Join us, share the fun of creating your very own light sculptures and artworks, and see the artworks of hundreds of artists who make light a fascinating part of their art.

September 16 - Glow in the Dark Jars & Bottles

October 21 - Illuminated Sculptures

November 18 - Glow in the Dark Jellyfish & Bugs

We are thrilled that our Center for Performing Arts campus is helping set thousands of children on paths toward brighter futures with youth theater, dance, art and music programs. Last year we provided programs to over 12,000 youth and awarded over $100,000 in scholarships. We hope you'll join us in making this dream a reality for your kids and generations to come.
